THE BEST

These are the very best years of our lives. As each day comes to a close we anxiously look toward the challenges of tomorrow with our hopes set high and our dreams set on a pedestal. We look at yesterday's cherished moments, laughing at the good times and crying for the sad. Although we live for today, our hearts yearn for tomorrow.

... OF TIMES

ROYALTY

Sophomore Scott Collins crowns Kristi Saul wrestling Queen.

Being a part of MHS royalty is a great honor for Mannford students. The candidates and escorts are elected by the team or organization and queens chosen by a vote. Sharing in these honors are wrestling queen Kristi Saul and escort Scott Collins, football queen Franki Tennison and escort Jeff Ledbetter, and basketball queen Vicki Ponder and escort Dean Hatfield.

Candidates for wrestling queen were senior Donna Stout, junior LeeAnn Calahan, sophomore Kristi Saul, and freshman Shanna Simmons.

The 1981-82 wrestling candidates pose with their escorts, mascots, and the wrestling cheerleaders.

Senior Danny Sims escorts Donna Stout.

ROYALTY

Football homecoming is always a main event at Mannford High. Although threatening rain put a slight damper on the day's festivities, floats were still judged, an exciting game was played, and senior Frankie Tennison was named 1981 Homecoming Queen.

1981 football royalty were freshmen Jackie Klintworth and Scott Sloan, sophomores Kara Adair and Chris Martin, juniors Patti Farris and Dale Rice, and seniors Frankie Tennison and Jeff Ledbetter.

Senior escort Jeff Ledbetter leads Queen Frankie to her throne.

Queen Frankie reigns as the Band of Pirates plays in the background.

BOYS BASKETBALL

Senior Randy Eslick dribbles the ball down the court.

Mannford's Boys Basketball team worked hard together to do their best. Although having a 6-17 record was disappointing, coach Shaw is looking forward to the incoming sophomores next year, and plans on having a better season. Practice makes perfect.

GIRLS BASKETBALL

The Lady Pirates had an exceptionally good season this year. This was the first year for the Mannford girls to make it to state, where the team became 3A state champion runner-up. The team had plenty of support from Mannford citizens, as they dribbled their way to the top. The 20-3 score for the 1981-82 year will not soon be forgotten, nor will the effort and enthusiasm of the Lady Pirates.

Wrestling boys put a lot of individual effort into making their team a success. They worked hard to achieve moves which enabled them to come out ahead. Much time went into lifting weights, running, and working out good. All the time and hard work was not spent in vain as the team learned new skills which will last for more than just one wrestling season.

VARSITY CHEERLEADERS

The main function of cheerleaders is to promote school spirit and to get the fans fired up at the games. Promoting spirit is exactly what our varsity cheerleaders did. They each have an unlimited amount of enthusiasm and pride. Together they worked hard to make this the best cheering season ever. These girls did a fantastic job during the 81-82 year.

There were fifty people in the first grade class at Mannford Elementary in 1971. Twelve years later twenty-four out of this group graduated from Mannford High. These people have not experienced going to another school. These people are members of the Twelve-Year Club of Mannford Schools. They have gone through the years, through all the good and bad, together. They have grown up together and learned together. It is for sure that they will never forget each other or the years they have spent at Mannford Schools. Congratulations to the twenty-four people who have completed grades 1 through 12 at Mannford.

Putting the yearbook together took a lot of hard work and extra hours and now that it's done, the staff members who gave it their all can be proud of a job well done.

We thank each and every person who participated in the making of every memory and hope this yearbook brings you years of laughs and tears as you remember . . . "the way we were."

Why do I always get surprised?

You were joking about that deadline, weren't you?

Special thanks to the Mannford Eagle, the Lake Keystone News, and Sportsbeat Monthly for their assistance in photography.

If we had an IBM I'd have this done.

Classroom activities of the FFA members include learning about the FFA organizations, citizenship, leadership, and cooperation. Other topics are animal medication, agricultural mechanics, careers, and record bookkeeping.

Outside of class FFA members put their learning into actual experience such as chapter meetings, livestock shows, alumni camps, banquets, state and national conventions. Many members received awards and recognition throughout the year and at the annual FFA parent member banquet.

Kaleidoscope once again pulled together to make this a very successful year. Their pride and hard work showed everytime they performed. Knowing there may not be a vocal music program next year, the students worked extra hard to make this a great year. They performed at Tech. and went to the Music Festival in Talequah. Along with Reflections, Kaleidoscope has performed several times in the area. Kaleidoscope consists of fifteen seniors, which is a considerable portion of the group.

REFLECTIONS

Although Reflections is a very young group, they have pulled together to make this a great year. In overcoming Kaleidoscope's shadow, they have formed their own identity. Reflection's pride and energy shows in their performances. Reflections performed for churches, the Lions club, and school activities. They are an energetic and spirited group. Mrs. Elkins is proud of their accomplishments. She has high hopes for the group in the future.

NEWSPAPER STAFF

The PRIDE staff worked hard to publish eight issues this year. Issues contained feature stories, editorials, sports, and student interest stories. Special columns included Jeannie Stafford's "Mystery Seniors," Wade Harper's "Those Eyes" photography column, Traci Rutledge's spotlight on senior athletes, and Jodi Hamilton's sports features.

The PRIDE staff also participated in "Journalism Day" at Oklahoma State University.

The spirit of the pep club this year was greatly appreciated by the coaches and players.

Even during the bad times, the pep club was yelling and cheering Mannford on.

The club decorated the halls and took spirit buses to every away game. The pep club helped to make Homecoming '81 a success even in spite of the rain.

Let's hope that every year our Pep Club has as much spirit and pride as this year's club had.

Pres., Donna Stout, V. Pres. Ginger Ratzlaff.

Much support was given by these senior pep club members.

SCIENCE CLUB

The Science Club is a most interesting organization. Under the guidance of a dedicated instructor/sponsor — Mr. Ted Smith, the members learned about various scientific fields of study, careers, and projects.

The Science Club visited the Oklahoma Osteopathic College on a tour led by Dr. Jack Wolfe. The "main attraction" there was the cadavers the students were permitted to observe. The members also enjoyed a trip to the Omniplex in Oklahoma City where they studied multiple scientific phenomena, as well as the local McDonalds.

"Mr. Smiff" — with two f's, Brian Ledger, Doris Kilby, Wade Harper, and Ginger Ratzlaff entertained the eighth grade science classes with a chemical magic show designed to further their interest in science.

Anyone who is interested in science as a field of study or a career would be encouraged to join the science club and enjoy the learning experience!!!

Club secretary Jacki "Jo" Arnett donated a hair to further our understanding of the electronic microscopes used in the field of medicine. This single hair was magnified several thousand times and displayed on a video screen. It was then photographed and printed for study.

SPANISH CLUB

The Spanish Club offered a variety of activities for its members this year. Among the festivities were trips to Tulsa's ever-popular "Casa Bonita," the learning and singing of Spanish Christmas carols, and several Mexican fiestas.

Students can usually depend on the Spanish Club as being a group of people who truly enjoy the food and fun of the Spanish culture as well as the company of the other members.

HONOR SOCIETY

The 1981-82 National Honor Society was an active organization. One major accomplishment was the "Food Drive." Food and household items were collected from students and local businesses to help needy families enjoy Christmas more. Another highlight was the initiation of new members. The brightest moment for any member is wearing their white collar as they graduate and knowing they were a part of an organization that stands for excellence.

MARCHING BAND

Twenty new people that have never been in a marching band! The youngest MHS Band ever! 80% new colorguard line! What a disaster!

That is what a lot of people thought about the Band of Pirates this year. When summer band started, a lot of hard work was put forth to change the concept that people had of the 1981-82 Band of Pirates. New talents and new attitudes helped prove the band to be a big success.

This was a year to be remembered forever, and also one to be topped by none in the field of progression. To this band, indeed, The Show Will Go On!

ART SHOW

The art classes were filled with talented students, and thanks to the hard work and dedication of Instructor Dee Maddox — Mannford's Teacher of the Year — that talent was displayed in a colorful array of fine projects.

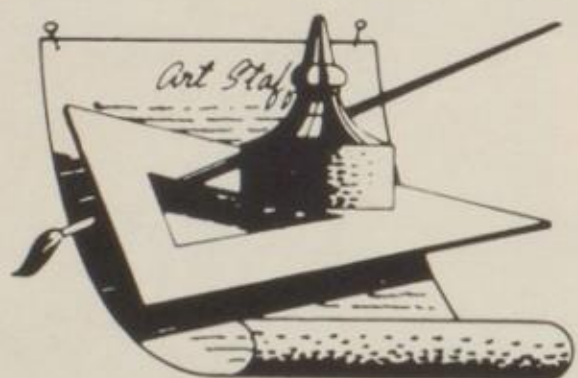

The spring art show was a great deal of fun for the whole art department and equally as much work. It was also a time for the students who worked so hard to own a sense of pride and accomplishment and a time for the townspeople to view the creativity.

Planning parties, taking tests,

Your mom still treats you like a child.

Up in the morning for school at seven.
Graduation comes at last;
We reminisce about the past.
Our high school days have been the best —
Always remember, never forget!*

JR-SR PROM

"When Will I See You Again," was the theme of the 1981-82 Junior-Senior prom, and it seemed to sum up well the feelings of many juniors and seniors who gathered at the OSU Student Union ballroom on April 23 to eat, dance, and share memories together for the last time.

All enjoyed the meal, the will and prophecy and music by Silver Streak.

We have met, strangers among strangers searching for meaning through people and experiences. Loneliness had been our companion like a suitcase of our past adventures carried with us providing some security. Our adventure provided warmth, an added dimension to our lives. We gave to each other even though it wasn't expected. Between passing days and fleeting romances our friendship has grown, never defined by words. Because of the way you are I have wanted to give you a gift. Perfume would have been nice but its fragrance is always fleeting. Flowers would have added warmth for moments, but nothing tangible can last forever. Nothing I have to give would represent my true feelings for you. Finally one day, clustered among the colorful aspens and the sounds of a rushing brook, I discovered my gift for you. All that I can give you is time — time to grow . . . to share . . . to love . . . as only you can do. My demands of you are simple. Blossom, my friend, into the beautiful flower I see inside. Share your warmth as you love. Share your happiness as you give, and remember me as I pass through your mind like a gentle wave on the drifting sand.

"Who ever thought I'd be attacked at the prom!?"

WHEN WILL I SEE YOU AGAIN

"They said they'd be right back!"

"What about the punch bowl?"

The freshman year of high school is one of many firsts. For these freshmen it was their first year to choose classes, compete in sports, participate in high school activities, and to build a first-place winning float for Homecoming.

They learned, they had fun, and they prepared themselves for three more years of high school life. They were involved in Pep Club, and many other worthwhile activities and they successfully completed their first year at MHS.

The class of '84 enjoyed being sophomores .. Many said it was because of the wider range of classes available such as typing and yearbook.

This was the first year for sophomore boys and girls to play on varsity teams. They deserve much credit. Other sophomores backed them all the way; showing their pride.

"We're the best as can be, Super Senior '83!"
The class of '83 is well on their way to seniorhood.
The juniors did many things for Mannford High School. They raised money for the Senior prom by selling candy bars, magazine subscriptions, and by operating the concession stand during football and basketball games. They never stopped helping out.
The juniors also showed their class spirit when they won 2nd place on their float entitled "We are the Champions."

They were proud to be the juniors of '82 but they are more anxious to be the Seniors of '83!!

"IF WE HAD THE CHANCE TO DO IT ALL AGAIN, TELL ME, WOULD WE? COULD WE? . . ."

From recess on the playground to the last dance of the prom — this is where memories are made. At times it seemed we'd never see our last year of school, but we're here, and we've gained so much — the memories of special friends and feelings. Our school years have been filled with so many dreams and accomplishments. We've learned and we've grown together, sharing the best years of our lives with each other. Twelve years later, we share memories . . .

. . . can it be . . .

. . . that it was all too . . .

"GONE, THE DREAMS OF THE PAST, GONE WITH

FACULTY

High school teachers make many things possible. If not for them, how else would we ever learn about Romeo and Juliet, debits and credits, theorems and formulas, cooking and sewing, running and exercising, sportsmanship and leadership, and individuality? Their decisions aren't always popular ones, but who ever said educating was a popular job? Hang in there teachers, you count.

SUPPORT PERSONNEL

Cooks: Jacalyn Gifford, Opal George, Judy Jones, Judi McIntire, Dorothy Watson, Virginia Stokes, Carla McCrackin.

Custodians: Tami Staley, Angelia Fort, Billy Patrick, Doris Correll, Marilyn Pursell.

Orville O'Kelley and Albert Holden do a fine job in maintenance.

Mannford Schools have to give a personal thank you to all of our custodians, who do everything from cleaning the campus, to fixing minor breakdowns, and to our cafeteria workers for preparing fine hot lunches for many students, and to the bus mechanics, for keeping those buses in running order. Mannford students couldn't have made it through the year without their help. They did a superb job.

What kind of person does it take to be a middle school teacher? It takes someone who can successfully work with 6th, 7th, and 8th graders, to prepare them for high school. It takes a very special person, ones like our middle school teachers. They've put in a lot of work teaching their students, sponsoring extra-curricular activities and raising money. They were involved in the Faculty Follies to help raise money for scholarships. These teachers deserve all of our praise.

As eighth graders finish their last year of grammar school they have slowly prepared themselves for future high school years.

Many have participated in football, basketball, band and P.E. classes. Along with required subjects, students have enjoyed having classes weekly in music, speech, reading and library. Eighth graders say they have enjoyed this year and now look forward to becoming Freshmen.

Some of the seventh grade's favorite activities were going to music, band, speech, and especially to P.E. They played football, basketball, and Mannford even gained new wrestlers. SIXTH GRADE

It was a new experience for this year's sixth graders to attend classes at the Middle School. They went through a big change from being the oldest at the Elementary to becoming the youngest class at the Middle School. Although they were the youngest, they had just as much fun. They experienced new subjects and activities such as changing classes each period, having competitive athletics, art, speech, Indian culture, music, and band. The sixth graders are looking forward to another fun and exciting year of learning experience at the Middle School.

MIDDLE SCHOOL BAND

The Middle School Band participated in the spring concert and in the Sand Springs Concert Band Contest, in which they placed 2nd, an excellent rating. Many of the members took part in the rock-athon and raised a big portion of the funds necessary to purchase new uniforms. With Mr. Fisher's fine direction and their hard work they'll achieve great heights.

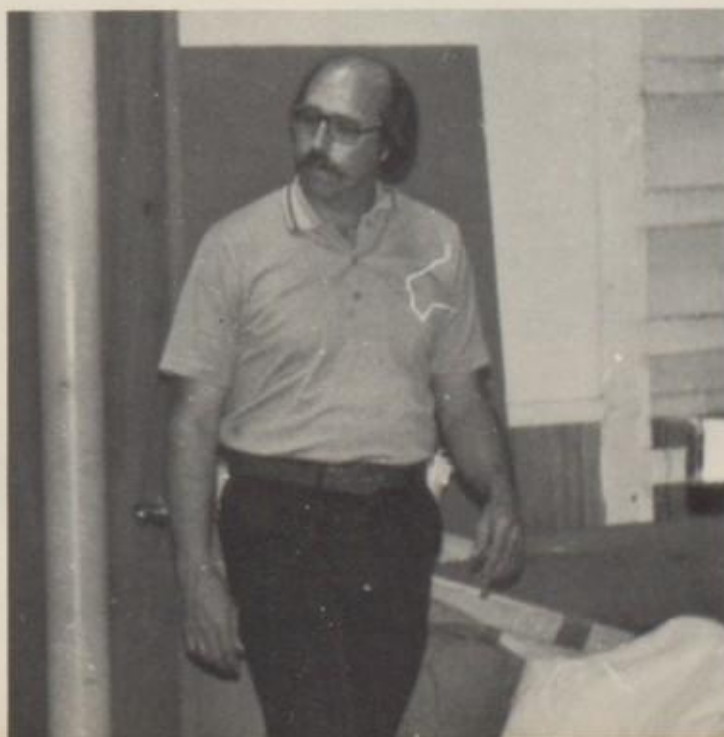

Hey someone help us clean up this mess . . .

Keep on trying Shelly.

Fifth grade is a year of firsts and lasts. It was their first year for competitive sports, band, choosing classes, and new experiences.

It was the last for being in the small world of laughter and joy of the elementary school, but high hopes are set for their new world of middle school the following year.

The fourth grade had a very exciting year. They worked hard to improve their multiplication and division. They also enjoyed competing in contests, such as designing badges and reading books. They made maps of the world and put on a puppet show each week. Fourth grade was a great year and a learning experience for everyone.

This boy is taking a serious approach to school work.

For the third graders, 1981-82 was a year for learning new things like cursive writing, multiplication, and division.

During the fall, all three of the third grade classes worked together on an Oklahoma bulletin board displaying the state in tissue paper collage to celebrate Oklahoma's Diamond Jubilee.

Part of the Christmas season festivities included a play entitled "The Best Part of Christmas."

If the third graders work as hard as they have this year, there "Ain't No Stoppin' Them Now!"

The second graders have enjoyed learning about some customs of the very first Americans, the Indians. We also discovered much about our own state when we celebrated the beginning of Oklahoma's 75th birthday.

All 100 second graders shared the fun of reading by dressing up as their favorite book character during National Children's Book Week. We also made a huge banner decorated with book covers made by each of the second grade students.

In the spring the children like to write letters to their favorite pen pal or relative. We then make a trip to the Post Office to mail the letters, take a tour of the Post Office and learn what happens to our letters.

1st GRADE

The first graders started off the year with a study on safety. By Thanksgiving the majority of students are reading well and getting excited about studying pilgrims and Indians. They enjoy the Christmas season and all the excitement that comes with learning new things. Valentines Day is a fun time of year to visit the bakery and enjoy the sweets prepared there. First graders study animals at the end of the year which includes a trip to the Tulsa zoo. By spring they are ready for vacation. Learning is hard work, and they've only just begun.'

KINDERGARTEN

A year in Kindergarten is centered around intellectual, physical, social and emotional growth. They participate in a wide variety of activities that help children grow in these areas. The inflatable letter people are very popular with both the children and their parents.

A typical day might include: fingerplay, singing, records, stories, painting, playing games, cooking, and a few work papers.

Elementary teachers and faculty have the pleasure of working with and teaching elementary students. As a most rewarding job much time and concern goes into each day of learning. These teachers have the responsibility of education for many children. Much appreciation goes to these few as the job they do is a most important one.

The school year is over and we now look back on many memories that will last throughout our life times.

We learned a great deal about not only our classroom studies, but also our friends, teachers, and even ourselves.

Together we face each new day, reaching new heights, setting higher goals, and purposing to become what we have dreamed possible.
